Family Philanthropy: Tips for Working with Children and Young Adults

Start the year off with a commitment to family philanthropy:

- Plan a quarterly philanthropic project as a family (such as a site visit to your favorite grantee)
- Honor loved ones with “gifts in honor” to their favorite charities for birthdays, holidays, or to say “thanks” or “thinking of you”
- Let your children pick a service project, then have the whole family volunteer together
- Keep a log of your philanthropic projects and the lessons learned; it will be good to review your experiences later in the year and in years to come
